Save the date!

Make sure you have Saturday 6th June in your diaries for what is shaping up to be a major local community event. On this date, Otford will be celebrating the 500th anniversary of Henry VIII's stay at Otford Palace, and we're all invited!

In June 1520, Henry, his wife Catherine of Aragon, and his retinue were on their way to meet King Francis I of France at a lavish camp near Calais. The camp, with its impressive costumes decorated with gold, silver and pearls, became known as the Field of Cloth of Gold. The aim of the meeting was to bring Britain and France together as allies, but within two years, the two countries were at war.

A free, family event on Otford's Palace Field will place during the afternoon and evening of the 6th June to commemorate this occasion. There will be Tudor music, a Tudor market, Morris dancing, activities for children and a play full of intrigue and excitement.

Don't miss it!
